Not long ago W. L. M. King announced that he was "glad to inform the House that the First Canadian Army has now taken its place in the order of battle and is participating in the operations in North Africa." Soon after that a military officer broadcast from London the unforgettable scene when a Canadian general travelled by a Canadian destroyer, surrounded by officers in Canadian naval blue, on his historic journey to take over the Canadian Army.

Ion, J. L. Ralston refused to make any statement as to the composition of the Canadian Army, but bit by bit information is coming to us from the front. It has now been reported to contain a Dutch brigade, a Polish armored division, a Belgian contingent and British forces which includes the famous Seaford Highlanders.

All these meetings are in addition to the regular weekly meeting on Tuesday at 8 o'clock.

Joint Boards Win Favor

REGINA, Dec. 2 — (C.P.) — "Value of labor-management production committees for the post-war period now is recognized to the extent that most companies having them have stated they will continue indefinitely," said R. W. Crumb of Toronto, representative of the Industrial Co-operation Board, in an address here last night.

Mr. Crumb said Hon. C. B. Howe, Munition Minister and Hon. H. Mitchell, Labor Minister, in a joint statement have urged that all industry embrace these committees and continue them into the post-war years.

Speaking to the conference of the national and regional employ-

His speech added: "... If the channels of trade are substantially closed, the economy will be paralyzed."
